

SPRING AND FALL VEGETABLE PLANTING GUIDE TEXAS HILL COUNTRY

(Information provided by Comal Master Gardener Association's 'Vegetable and Herb Gardening Guide')

Spring Planting Guide

When spring fever sets in, use the Comal Master Gardener guide to plan your spring vegetable garden. Keep in mind, the last average freeze date for the Bulverde- Spring Branch area is March 22nd.

March

Beets

Radish

Turnip - through mid April

Summer Squash - mid March through early April

Winter Squash - mid March through mid June

Snap Bush Beans - mid March through mid May

Snap Pole Beans - mid March through mid May

Swiss Chard - through mid May

Sweet Corn - mid March through mid May

Cucumber - mid March through April

Tomato - late March through mid May

Peppers - mid March through mid May

April

Cantaloupe - through mid June

Eggplant

Lima Bush Beans - through mid May

Lima Pole Beans - through mid May

Okra - through June

Southern Peas - through mid June

Sweet Potato - through June

Pumpkin - through June

Watermelon - through May

For more information, please reference "Vegetable and Herb Gardening for Comal County and Central Texas," sponsored by the Texas A&M Agrilife Extension Service. Books available in the office at South Texas Growers.

SPRING AND FALL VEGETABLE PLANTING GUIDE TEXAS HILL COUNTRY

(Information provided by Comal Master Gardener Association's 'Vegetable and Herb Gardening Guide')

Fall Planting Guide

When the weather gets cooler, use the Comal Master Gardener Guide to plan your fall vegetable garden. Remember the first average freeze for the Bulverde- Spring Branch area is November 24th.

September

Beets - mid September through mid November
Broccoli - mid September through mid November
Brussel Sprouts - mid September through mid November
Cabbage - mid September through mid November
Carrot - mid September through mid November
Cauliflower - mid September through mid November
Collards - mid September through mid November
Swiss Chard - mid September through mid November
Radish - late September through December
Spinach - late September through December

October

Garlic - through early December
Lettuce - mid October through December
Mustard - October through mid December
Onion
Turnip - mid October through mid December

For more information, please reference "Vegetable and Herb Gardening for Comal County and Central Texas," sponsored by the Texas A&M Agrilife Extension Service. Books available in the office at South Texas Growers.